

English Language Arts-First Grade
Essential Skill Component	Standard	Sub Component	Quarterly Focus
			Quarter 1 Reading Focus:
Reading: Foundational Skills			Print Concepts: Know the features of sentences (first word, capitalization, ending punctuation) Phonics: Identify the differences between long and short vowel sounds in single syllable words, produce single syllable words by blending sounds (including consonent blends), isolate and pronounce initial, medial vowel, and final sounds in spoken single syllable words, segment single-syllable words into their complete sequence of individual sounds. Word Recognition: Focus on decoding regularly spelled one-syllable words. A focus will need to be placed on recognition of irregularly spelled words at a first grade reading level. Fluency: Students will read grade level text with purpose and understanding, read orally with accuracy, appropriate rate, and expression on successive readings. Literature: Distinguish between ficiton and non-fiction texts. Students could sort previously read texts by the two types and/or tell the different features that make a text fiction or non-fiction. After being read to OR having read a story on their own, students will be able to retell a story to include key details. Students should be able to name the character(s), and setting of a story as well as define the problem and solution. Using the illustrations and words from the story, students should be able to provide details about the character(s), setting and events. To build comprehension, students should be able to answer teacher led questions about story read aloud or on texts students have read. With support, begin having students formulate questions about text to extend understanding.
